

FREE RESOURCES FOR SPINAL CORD INJURY

Living Beyond SCI

Living Beyond SCI is a free website for people living with spinal cord injury – and the people who care for them. It brings together three areas of work: hands-free harmonica playing for people with high-level injury, a guided imagery programme grounded in motor imagery research, and twenty-five years of quality of life evidence from rehabilitation psychology. The three connect. All of it is free, self-directed, and designed to be used from wherever you are.

01 Hands-Free Harmonica

A structured curriculum for people with high-level spinal cord injury. No hands required – just breath.

02 Guided Imagery Programme

Directed mental practice using motor imagery to stimulate nerve pathways. Evidence-based and self-directed.

03 Quality of Life Research

Twenty-five years of rehabilitation psychology evidence on what actually helps people flourish after SCI.

Harmonica trains the breath. Breath opens the door to imagery. Imagery changes the body and mind.

Living Beyond SCI

livingbeyondsci.com

FREE · SELF-DIRECTED · ALWAYS AVAILABLE

SCAN TO VISIT